
Bike Easy is searching for Complete Streets Ambassadors to help spread the word and build support for the planning, building, design, and activation of a bikeway network expansion. We need your help to engage with as many people and organizations as possible. Get involved to be a part of the future of New Orleans biking!

Desired Qualifications for Ambassadors:

- Regularly walks, bikes, and/or takes the bus to get around the Greater New Orleans area
- Outgoing people person who works well with others and is comfortable talking in front of groups
- Passionate about building community and is connected to people and/or organizations in the neighborhood or around Greater New Orleans
- Familiar with New Orleans and/or Jefferson Parish communities
- People from communities of color and under-resourced communities are especially encouraged to apply
- People are also encouraged to apply in small teams (2-3) with pre-existing community relationships

Successful applicants will be available and committed to the following:

- Initial 4-hour training
- 1-month program (with ongoing opportunities beyond that), approximately 3 hours per week
- Sharing their own personal story about walking and biking in public meetings and other settings
- Leading a small project in their own neighborhood, with support from Bike Easy
- Join the Connect the Crescent Coalition in either New Orleans or Jefferson Parish

Stipend

A limited number of $300 stipends are available for those who need them to be able to make this commitment. There will be a $100 payment upon completion of the training weekend and a $200 payment at the end of the month. Please indicate in the application if you would like to apply for the stipend. This will have no bearing on whether you are accepted into the program.
